I. Read the following text carefully.

In 2007, the new Seven Wonders of the world were announced. They included the Colosseum in Rome and the Great Wall of China. So I decided to start a list of my own seven wonders. Here's the list so far!

1 The London Eye

It was built for the new millennium, but it wasn't opened until March 2000. Typical! It's 135 metres high and there are 32 capsules. It takes half an hour to go round and it never stops so you have to get on and off while it's moving.

2 The Angel of the North

A lot of people hated this statue when it was first built in 1998, but now it's a popular icon. It's made of steel and stands near the road to Newcastle. It's twenty metres high and the wings are 54 metres wide, that's wider than a Boeing 757.

3 The Eden Project

It looks like something from space, but you can see plants from all over the world here. The domes were built to create different climates, so you can see banana trees in the tropical dome and olive trees and grape vines in the Mediterranean one.

4 Blackpool Tower

It was built after the mayor of Blackpool visited Paris and saw the Eiffel Tower. The first stone was laid in 1891 and there's a time capsule buried under it. You can take a lift to the top, and there's also an aquarium and a circus at the base.
